54th COMMENCEMENT CEREMONIES

1st SEMESTER GRADUATION

// There is much pride in being a graduate of MSU-IIT, and this pride comes with a responsibility—a promise for you to make it less hard for someone else; a duty for you to lessen the burden of those who struggle. You step in and step out of a state university with this yoke to carry: your education is not yours alone. What you do not do with it matters as much as what you do with it; either will create a ripple effect in your community. For this reason, it is my prayer that you be mindful of the power that you wield or the power that you withhold.

As graduates of MSU-IIT, you possess the expertise expected in your fields, but your holistic experience in the University will have equipped you also with the ability to weigh expertise with compassion, so you may make accurate but kind choices. In the same manner, your residency here will have encouraged you to cultivate grit and passion to reach the potential that your education has opened for you. Temper this passion with truth, so you may make passionate but informed decisions.
